Who is it for?

The Congress is aimed at the entire academic and research community that wishes to disseminate its research work.

Structure

The Congress has the following structure:

- Presentation of communications and posters.
- Digital videos with keynote presentations.

Subsequently, the communication can be published in the form of an article in one of our journals, and the abstracts will be part of the event book.

Participation in the Congress

To participate in the Congress, a communication whose basis is linked to the thematic area of the congress must be prepared.

The main thematic lines to be developed in communications are the following:

- Mechanical and Biomechanical Engineering.
- Engineering Education. Project engineering training.
- Manufacturing and Metrology Engineering.
- Railway, Vehicle and Transportation Engineering.
- Sustainability and Environment in Engineering.
- Civil Engineering, Urban Planning and Territorial Planning.
- Architecture and Construction. Habitability and Urban Resources.
- Energy Efficiency, Renewable Energies.
- Industrial Design Engineering. Processes and Design and Product.
- Rural Development and Development Cooperation Projects. Cores and smart rural territories.

- Software engineering. Society of Information.
- Information technology and communications.
- Informatic security.
- IoT.
- Big Data.
- Naval Engineering and Maritime Industry.
- Physical Engineering and Chemical Engineering.
- Industrial and Organization Engineering.
- Quality and Product Management.
- Operational Research, Modeling and Simulation.
- Forest engineering.
- Innovation and Entrepreneurship in Engineering.
- Aeronautical and Aerospace Engineering.
- Technology applied to Health Sciences.
- Electric engineering.
- Telecommunications Engineering.
- Agronomic Engineering.

Process

To participate in the congress it is essential to send an abstract in advance, in which the content of the communication to be presented is explained clearly and concisely, and must be sent to the email info@3ciencias.com.

Abstracts may be sent until September 18th, and on the 30th of the same month the maximum date will be communicated if they have been accepted or rejected. The relevant modifications can be sent until October 13th, and the rest of the documentation will be accepted until the 20th of the same month, also maximum registration day.

Once the asbtract has been accepted, the main author can register within the congress web platform and make the participation payment through bank transfer, sending the receipt to the email info@3ciencias.com. The complete communication must be sent to the same email.

Technical characteristics of the document to send

- ABSTRACTS' CHARACTERISTICS

The corresponding abstract of the work done must be submitted. It must include:

- Title of article in Spanish and English.
- Name of the author/s of the article, together with their professional description and e-mail address (according to the template), it is recommended to add the ORCID code.

- Keywords, both in Spanish and English (6 to 10 words).
- Bibliographic references used to carry out the work, following the regulations of the American Psichological Association in its 7th edition (APA regulations).

Note: Follow Abstract Template as a reference.

- CHARACTERISTICS OF THE COMPLETE TEXT

- The complete articles, which will be unpublished, will have a maximum length of 5,000 words, including bibliography, although shorter extensions will be appreciated.
- Its title must be expressed in Spanish and English.
- Papers must be written in Spanish or English.
- Each work must be preceded by a abstract (which will have been presented previously), in Spanish and English (150 to 250 words), and 6 to 10 keywords in both languages.
- The inclusion of charts and graphs that support theses developed and defended in the article will be valued.

All of them must be in editable format (e.g., .xlsx).

- The name of the author/s must appear on the first page, next to the academic degree and institution where it was obtained, current company or institution and the email. The ORCID must be included.
- The references will go to the end of the work under the heading Bibliographical references. For this, it is always necessary to follow the APA regulations.
- Articles with spelling errors will not be accepted. The contents of the writings must be carefully reviewed before sending.
- Originals will be sent in "Word" or compatible format and in color.
- The images of the publication will be sent in jpg format.

Note: Follow Template of scientific work as a reference.

– POSTERS' CHARACTERISTICS

According to the points developed in the article, they have been presented in the poster in a simplified way, where the key ideas of each of the parties are presented.

The poster must include:

- Title
- Authors and small biography
